

MUTANTS? CONTAMINATION? NO HOPE?

You've found mutants and toxic dirt and poisoned water. All around is hardship and death...

You work hard and barely survive. You dig and scrape and fight. Most of the people you know die of mutations, plague of killed by mutants in the wastelands...

You ask why this is happening? How could this be all there is? Is there more? And you get no answer.

These are all clear and True signs that the old enemy of humanity has returned, the War in the Sky only drove them underground, it did not kill them, and it did not kill humanity...

The THREE BREAKERS Have returned making them sick and then teamed up with Ekon to sell them cures that did not work and cost more than they could afford. The Third Breaker is the most dangerous of all, the ancestors called it only "The Man" and it tried to control everything everyone did all the time. It used agents called Efbe's who were shadowy ghosts whose Eyes could see through walls and spy on the ancestors. When the High Bosses saw what was happening they sheltered some of those who knew the Truth to keep it straight on the Great Rig that stood through the Headhonchos war.

The Three Breakers are the destroyers of Humanity that was, even before the great War of the Headhonchos. The Breakers each worked their own devious ways to subvert our old long ago ancestors. The Breaker Ekon worked to make the men and women of the Land want for things they could never have, it didn't matter how hard they worked, they could never have the wonders Ekon showed them. The Breaker Bigfarma tricked the ancestors by

ALL IS NOT LOST.

The High Bosses sent us down the Fifteen Survivalists who looked like humans but were full of the knowledge of living through the great Headhoncho's war that was coming. They taught the people of the Rig how to live through the terrible times and when the Survivalists took the long path back to the High Bosses they had left all they knew behind in a book called The Manual.

The Manual holds all the knowledge of the High Bosses, and all the knowledge the People of the Rig gained during the Growing and the Pains. Today we share the wisdom of The Manual with the Grifters of the Land.

KEEP THE TRUTH STRAIGHT.

The High Bosses commanded the People of the Rig to keep the Truth Straight and True, and we have, down the long road of the passing we have held The Manual safe and always up-to-date.

CENTITE, THE HOPE.

During the long War in the Sky, the Headhonchos fought long and hard for control over the Land. Not even the High Bosses know how or why. Shots fired in that great battle went wide of the mark and the Land was raked in the crossfire. The People of the Rig went out across the Land and found many of the impact marks from those Sky Bullets, and inside the found precious Centite.

The People of the Rig, being the Chosen keepers of the Truth used the knowledge of the High Bosses to work the Centite and bring forth the powers of the High Bosses and the Headhoncho's themselves. Only the True Chosen can read The Manual, but anyone who accepts the Truth as given to us by the High Bosses and renounces the subverting ways of the Breakers Ekon, Bigfarma and The Man can gain learnings and knowings from The Manual to keep you safe and True through the dark times ahead.

TECHNICAL INDULGENCE

The first step on the road to salvation lies in accepting the Technical Indulgence from one of the True People of the Rig.

The Technical Indulgence allows a Line Pusher or higher to recite the Technical Litany and thus start you on the path from Grifter to Devout. The Technical Indulgence will oil your gears and solder your connections in the eyes of the High Bosses for a suitable donation.

INSTRUCTION LITANY

For those wishing to gain more favour in the eyes of the High Bosses, you may accept an Instruction Litany from one of the True People of the Rig, this must be given by a Wrench Jockey or higher.

— Take the next step to move away from the influence of the Three Breakers and embrace the Truth through Instruction.
